THE RIGORS of school life prove too much for Dave Bashover as he snatches a snooze in the library.

ALTHOUGH free time is scarce, Kathy Culhane, (top middle) helps underprivileged children and Keith Claro (right) improves his sailing skills.

INTRIGUED BY the various growths in the roots of an upturned tree, Cheryl Jacobs investigates.

" . . . and I am waiting to reclaim the earth as theirs. . . "

ON THE WAY home, Jolie Parker pauses to feed the horses that live next to school.

ALTHOUGH training championship dogs is a favorite pastime of Carolyn Leakey, "all work and no play" can prove tiresome and an occasional break is required.

New Flexible Scheduling Allows More Time

To help relieve the overcrowded conditions of the classrooms and to lessen the 3:15 p.m. rush from the parking lot, students were given a choice of exit times this year. Juniors and seniors attending 7:10 a.m. classes were allowed to leave at 1:15 or 2:15 p.m., and DE and ICT participants left at 11:30 as usual.

Although shorter school hours helped students on jobs and gave them more time for personal hobbies; club activities lagged as many students were not willing to return to school at 3:15 for meetings.

Despite the varying schedules, Jackson life went on as usual. Freshmen were introduced to the meaning of Jackson Pride at the first fall pep assembly and surprised the rest of the student body with their lively response to "Battle Cry." In-school activities ranged from imitating Peter Fonda for an English skit to smuggling food from the cafeteria.

"EASY RIDER" Kaye Casad demonstrates her concept of a hero during an English class skit.

MR. JOHN CLAYTON mans the ticket office during noon hour on Thursdays and Fridays before games.

For Homework, Hobbies

CINDY SHULTZ smuggles milk and sandwiches out of the cafeteria for a hungry sports editor.

FOOTBALL manager Mark Vanderwall checks the equipment during the Jackson-LaSalle game.

EACH STUDENT in basic art class sketches his own version of model Sue Smith.

Robert Gordes Fund Tops Goal; Conditioning

Machine in Memorial Room

A two-thousand dollar goal was exceeded by three hundred dollars after a three-week campaign to raise money for a Universal Gym machine. Fund-raising activities included the traditional Ugly Boy contest and the Little 500 bike race, along with some new projects. Homerooms collected pop bottles for refunds; and faculty ping pong games, a candy walk, basketball free throws, and dancing not only enlivened the atmosphere of the gym during noon hour but also brought us closer to the goal. The weight machine was purchased in memory of Mr. Robert Gordes, a student teacher who was killed in a trampoline accident at Jackson in 1969.

GREG LOVE and Mike Powers don feminine clothing and bring in the second win for homeroom 152.

FACULTY STAR Mr. Steve Smith, "Property of the City Sewer Department," takes his turn at bat.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION class makes full use of the new Universal Gym conditioning machine.

"MUNCHKIN" Diane Culhane returns to Oz for a pep assembly skit.

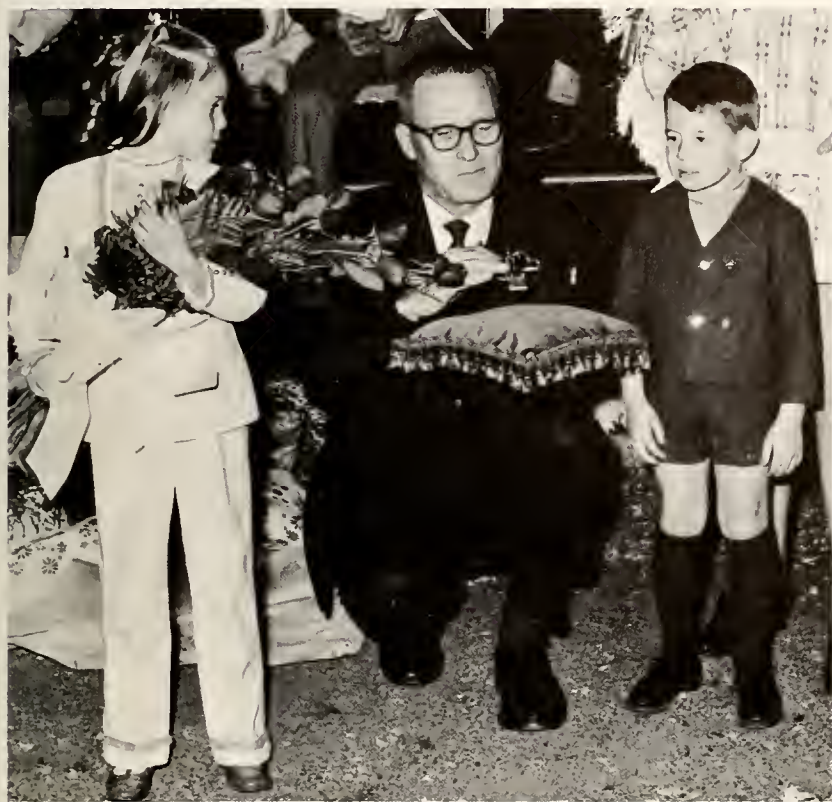

THE BRIGHTEST spot in the evening was the crowning of Becky DeShone, escorted by Bob Hillebrand.

MR. JAMES L. EARLY (upper right) helps Lori Claro and Dickie Morgan prepare for Homecoming activities.

"WORTH AT LEAST one touchdown," Coach Wally Gartee said of Tiger fans' loyal support of the team, evidenced by a pre-game tunnel (center right) and packed stadium (right).

Raindrops Kept Falling on Our Heads . . .

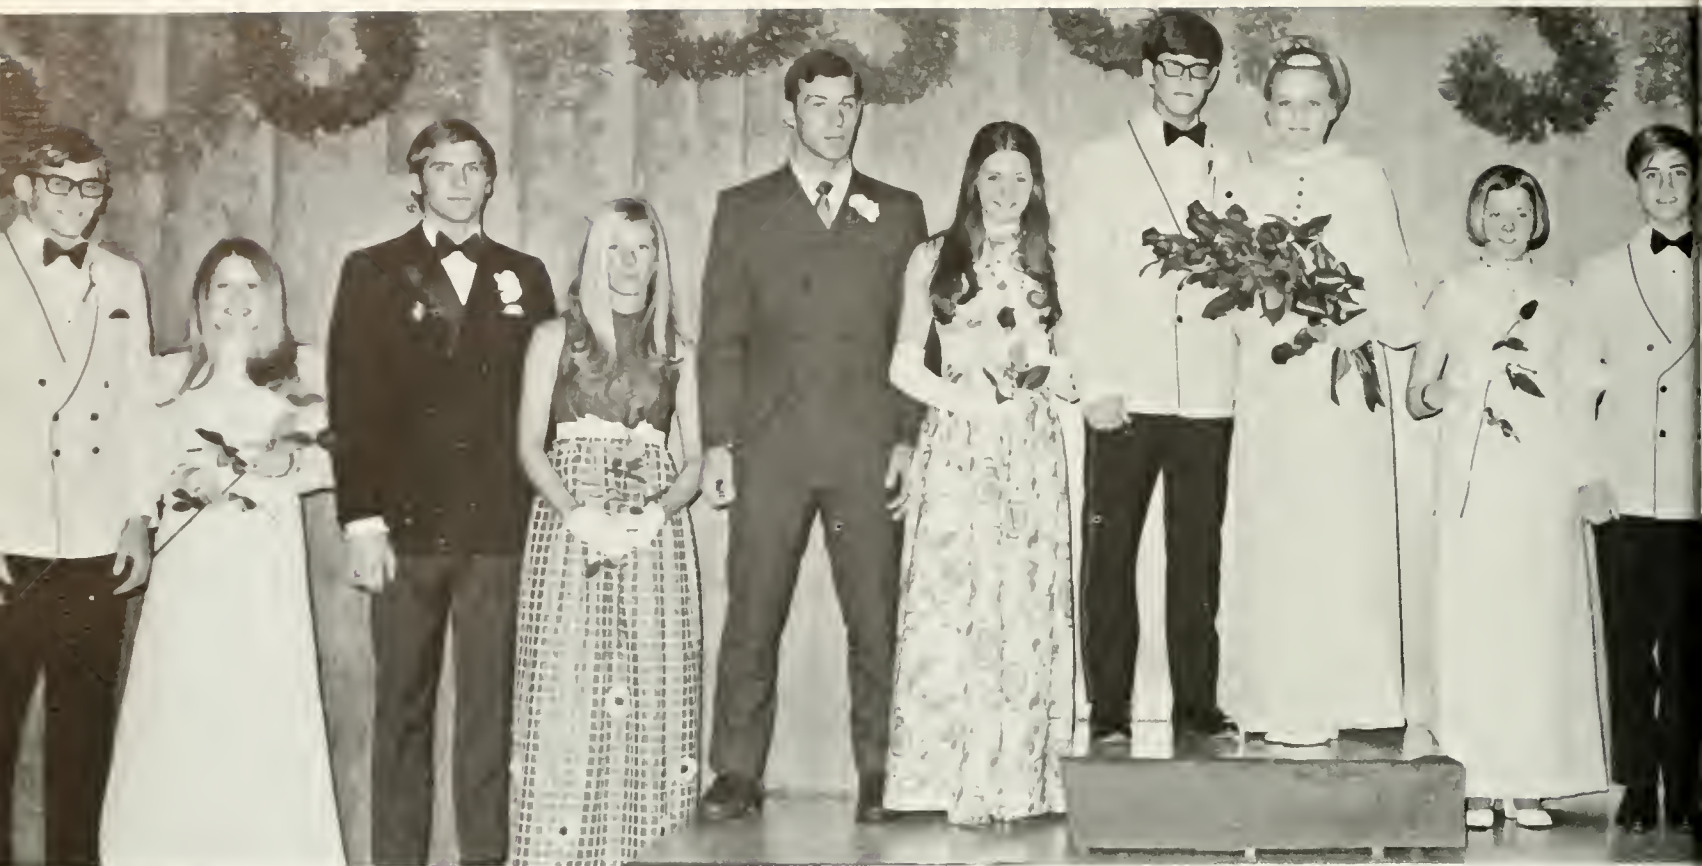

On the night of Homecoming 1970, it was destined to rain. But the spirit of JHSers was not dampened by the weather or by various mishaps. After going through yards of red tape, several juniors gained possession of a condemned house and tore it down to use the wood for the annual bonfire. When demolition of the house was complete, a city-wide ordinance banning school bonfires was made public, much to the dismay of both the house-wreckers and the rest of the student body.

After several weeks of work, the Homecoming float was completed. On the afternoon before the game, students were driving it down U.S. 31 when a semi whizzed past, sucked the crepe paper out of the chicken wire, and left Jackson with one very naked float. A sudden downpour during halftime ceremonies and a one-point loss polished off the evening.

PARTICIPATING in Homecoming festivities were YFU students Susie Schmidt (Germany) and escort Joris Reymer (Belgium). Branka Stirn (Yugoslavia) was escorted by Chris McVay.

MEMBERS of the 1970 Junior Prom Court and escorts were Dave Jessup, Connie Pacay, Rick Morrison, Janet Sharp, Bob Shonkwiler, Chris Seaborg, Jeff Schoppe, Marilyn Reasor, Kim Crofoot, Gary Midla, Cindy Springer, Larry Burcham, Jim Lipp and Kim Beach.

PINNING a boutonniere on Dean Reinke appears difficult for Kris Hildebrand.

'71 Class Breaks Tradition With New Prom Site

Held amidst an atmosphere of beauty and excitement, the 1970 Junior Prom will hold lasting memories for many. Decorations reflected the theme, "Sounds of Silence," and Eddie Knight and his orchestra provided the music. For the first time, the Junior Prom was held outside the Jackson gym, at the Morris Park Country Club. The highlight of the evening was the introduction of the court and the crowning of queen Marilyn Reasor. Mr. Eugene Hudson was the class sponsor.

LINDA SHORTZ and Ken Drake leave their wraps with coat check girls Hope Heemstra and Sally McDermott.

MARILYN REASOR poses proudly after being crowned queen of the 1969 Junior Prom.

'Happy Fridays' Herald Coming of Weekends

Getting away from the hectic life was a prime goal for JHS'ers. Weekends were anxiously awaited for dates, relaxation, or a much needed time to finish off a term paper. During football and basketball seasons, Village Inn, Barnaby's, and Pizza Hut were frequented by Jackson supporters after the games. During school hours students could forget homework for a while at lunchtime or in creative classes such as art. With a large per cent of Jackson's populace living outside the city limits, many owned horses and other animals.

BAREBACK RIDING in an open field is invigorating exercise for both Sue Heaney and her horse.

JEFF TROEGER and Nanette Lutes enjoy the natural beauty of the Elkhart Conservation Club.

ISOLATION CAN BE achieved in even the most crowded of study halls. A "student" becomes engrossed in Mad's version of the heroics of General Patton.

Mini—Midi—Maxi

Hair and Fashions

Show Originality

Impatience, rebellion, and concern were all evident this year in the youth of our school and our nation. Women united in a campaign that swept our nation to seek equality in job opportunities while college campuses demonstrated for ecological and social causes.

Fashions took a dive with the inaugurating of the midi and the country look. Tie and dyes were the rage, both homemade and store-bought versions. For those unwilling to go long, pants made the perfect transition between midi and mini. Gauchos, pant suits, and jumpsuits were practical, comfortable, and permissible to wear to most places of work. Wire-rimmed glasses perched on many noses, while Spiro Agnew and Mickey Mouse adorned the wrists of fashion-conscious clockwatchers.

LOOKING COMFORTABLE and stylish, Kim Crofoot models gaucho pants, a familiar look at Jackson.

SENIOR Stefanie Selden, wearing a skirt she bought in Africa, begins work on an art project.

SPORTING wire-rimmed glasses, Seniors Rick Sprague and Michelle Geoffroy study together.

LISA INFALT, dressed in a midi-vest and matching pants, examines a mobile in art class.

CONCENTRATION AND agility are essential for Don Bauschke to be able to hold a yoga position.

SENIOR TOM EVERLY looks for distinct marks that indicate the bottle is an antique. Most of his collection was acquired by digging in the banks of rivers.

Body Contortions, Meditation

Characteristics of Ancient Yoga

Unusual hobbies occupied the free hours of many Jackson students. Along with the more common pastimes of reading, watching T.V. and rock collecting, yoga classes attracted those who wished to learn more about the ancient philosophy and meditation. Others merely joined for the sake of exercise. The occult sciences mystified junior astrologers who plotted their natal charts, and believers in reincarnation delved into "past lives."

Knitting and crocheting baskets were seen in the classrooms as girls caught up on their needlework during movies and discussions. Embroidery too was revived and various peace signs, monograms, and flowers adorned blue jeans and shirts. In order to keep up with the latest fashion without damaging bank accounts, girls sewed their own clothes. Many made their boyfriends wide silk ties for Christmas.

Antique collections sent buffs digging through second-hand stores, most notably Thieves Market, in search of special finds. Record collections ran into hundreds of albums, with music fanatics spending hours immersed in sound.

ERICH SEGAL'S Love Story touched off a trend towards romanticism in novels and movies. Kathy Gibbs becomes emotionally involved.

DRESSED AND READY to go, "Conductor" Dave Marshall prepares for his hundredth train ride.

THE VICTIM OF a sudden ambush, Bill Davis attempts to brush the snow from his head.

WITH a firmly packed snowball in hand, Nancy Nelson prepares to get even with the "enemy."

New Snow Means Skiing, Shoveling; Maybe No School

Falling snow means something different to everyone. Some count the days toward skiing and tobogganing excursions or just weekend snow fights. Some, however, begrudgingly contemplate the hours they will spend shoveling driveways or the approximate number of times they'll get stuck in the course of the season. Those in 7:10 classes had plausible excuses for tardiness: "But Mr. Neff! The snow plows haven't even started clearing the streets yet!"

The unplowed parking lots offered exciting new activities to break up the monotony of the day. There was, of course, the ever-popular "Snowball Dodge" as well as the more daring game of How Many 360's Can You Do In One Run? Despite the several drawbacks, every Jacksonite must confess to that tingling sense of anticipation received when listening to the early morning road reports and wondering: "Will they close school or not?"

MELTING SNOW marks the beginning of spring as Mary Kocy and Sue Frame walk to school.

WINTER brings out playful instincts in all of us. Cindy Springer eats a handful of snow.

Senior Tiger Town Takes First Place In Hall Contest

With weeks of preparation, basketball homecoming was an event long anticipated by Jackson students.

Every class worked to choose a theme and decorated its assigned hall with hopes to win first place in the hall-decorating competition.

In an early morning pep assembly, the court was introduced to the student body. During half-time ceremonies Kitty Gates and Dave Fischgrund were crowned queen and king by Mr. Early.

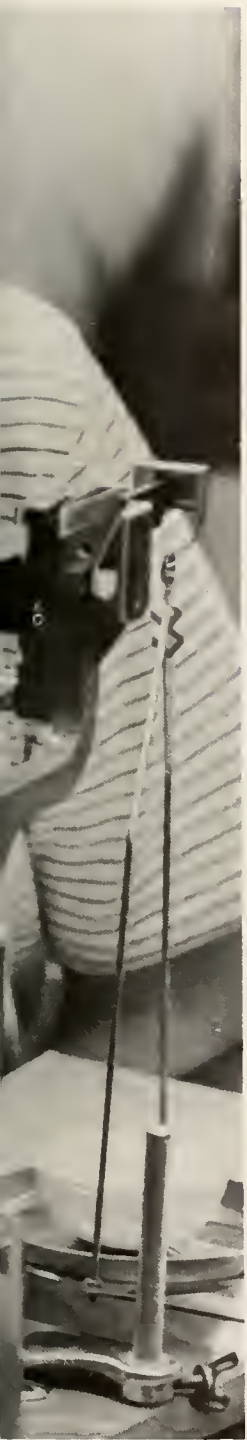

Other members of the court were Becky Meyer, Rick Streich, Jeff Vervet, Gretchen Woodcox, Denny Zimmer, Barb Allen, Dave Staples, Linda Lutes, Marti Doyle, Tom Everly, Holly Tolle, Norm Crider, Pam Goltz, Steve Trenkner, Linda Krusinski, and Bill Sharp.

of eternal life to be discovered..."*

ACADEMICS

Administrators, Counselors Guide

Jacksonites Toward Academic Goals

Jackson in 1970-71 had an academic staff of 73, headed by Principal James L. Early and Assistant Principal James Chambers. Mr. Chambers, formerly a counselor at Nuner Junior High, replaced Mr. Charles Welch who resigned to work on his doctorate at Ball State. Mr. Early was a member of the Board of Control of the Indiana High School Athletic Association and served as its representative to a national convention in Seattle last summer. The school gained "half a counselor" as Mrs. Anita Landry divided her time between the guidance office and the classroom. Mrs. Eve Arnett, school nurse since the building opened six years ago, was for the first time at Jackson on a fulltime basis.

PRINCIPAL JAMES L. EARLY WAS the school's number one booster of "Jackson Pride."

ASSISTANT PRINCIPAL James Chambers had responsibility for student activities and attendance.

SCHOOL SUPERINTENDENT Donald Dake started the practice of lunching with students in SBCSC schools.

REGULATING JACKSON HEALTH standards is the job of Mrs. Eve Arnett, fulltime school nurse.

SECRETARIES: Mary Staszewski, bookstore; Mrs. Georgiana Buehrer, counselors'; Mrs. Mary Widner, attendance; Mrs. Charlotte Mikel, main office; and Suzann Nowostawski, main office.

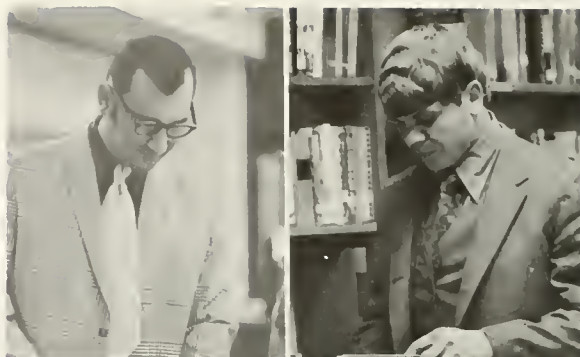

COUNSELORS MR. LELAND WELDY, Mrs. Anita Landry, Mrs. Sylvia Kercher, and head counselor Mr.

Everett Holmgren help underclassmen choose classes and guide upperclassmen toward careers and college.

DURING A U.S. HISTORY course on world wars, Tammy Olson studies World War II relics.

Basic Events, American Political behavior, Educational problems in America, and American Government beset all social studies buffs. Seniors in Government-Sociology classes had the opportunity for the first time to meet at 7:10 a. m. with Mr. Neff. Mr. Dunlap's sociology classes researched the ups and downs of the American educational system today and the ever-present grading procedure.

Mr. Hoyer's B. E. quizzes were an essential part of the juniors' U.S. History courses. New additions to the social studies department were a former Central teacher, Mr. Joseph Catanzarite, and Mr. Tim Mojzik.

12-week Mini-courses

Instead of taking the customary American Literature class, the Juniors embarked upon the new English Electives program. The course included intensive studies in the works of Shakespeare and Nobel Prize authors as well as the more general topics of love, politics, or war. Each student chose three courses that interested him most from a field of fifteen. Twelve weeks was spent on each unit.

Interest in speech class was so high that two classes were formed. Kimberly Beach placed second in the St. Joseph County Tuberculosis League contest with her interpretation of a TB germ. A coffeehouse was held in mid-December, complete with pastries, coffee, and students reading prose and poetry selections in a darkened atmosphere.

Engrossed in acquiring another language, French, Spanish, German, and Latin students widened their vocabularies and knowledge. The usual Christmas parties with "pinatas" and "bouche de Noel" again found their way into the holiday festivities and Latin classes held their annual banquet in December.

Three Jackson seniors spent summers in various countries as participants in the Honors Abroad program—Kathy Kretz in Mexico, Mickie Mooney in France, and Cindy Shultz in Italy. By using the language among the natives Mickie and Kathy were amazed to see how easy it was to pick up a second language.

The library continued to be an ever-present help in times of disasters and term papers, supplying everyone with newspaper and magazine articles as well as books.

Pigs Replace Cats

Fetal pigs were introduced to the science department since they cost less than the cats of previous years. Biology II students also spent twelve weeks on a microbiology unit in which they grew bacteria cultures. Biology I introduced the concepts of genetics, DNA molecules, and Darwin's Theory.

Earth Science, an alternative to Biology, probed the mysteries of the earth, including geology, meteorology, and oceanography. Bio-physical Science consisted of one third each of biology, chemistry, and physics. Chemistry II was reinstated as a continuing course of study of things learned in first year chemistry.

Mathematics Challenges Intellect; ICT, DE Provide On-job Training

PROVING THAT THE two sides of an isosceles triangle are equal is sophomore Cindy Hill.

ON HIS JOB at Don Medow Pontiac, ICT member Chuck Mark repairs a car body.

Knowing the "why" of mathematics was the main goal of math classes. Equations, null sets and inequalities were taught to freshmen students in Algebra I, while juniors learned to calculate angles of objects, sines and cosines in Trigonometry and Algebra II, Sophomores were challenged by learning how to prove facts concerning polynomials, triangles, trapezoids, and inequalities. Seniors struggled through hours of homework learning to differentiate and integrate, all the while wishing they had never seen the word Calculus. A note of levity was added when Miss Hartman gave a prize to the student who best completed the sentence, "I find Algebra fascinating because..."

Classes in Business Education

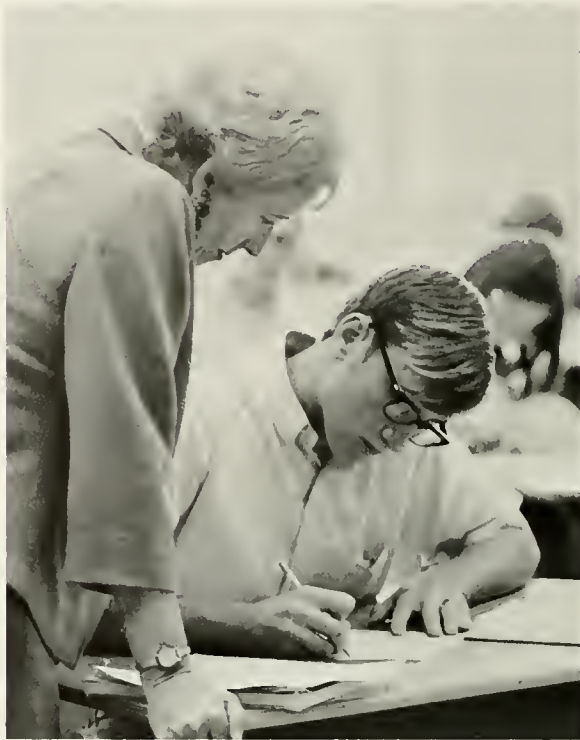

Prepare Potential Secretaries

Overcoming the habit of the hunt-and-peck system, typists practiced to new music in Mr. Ford's class. Among the courses offered to business-minded Jacksonites were Bookkeeping, Accounting, Office Training, Introduction to Business, Shorthand, and Typing-Notehand. These courses were designed for students interested in the world of business as secretaries, accountants and professional businessmen. Lectures and guest speakers added to curriculum and expanded interest in the Business classes. Advanced classes performed services by typing home room slips and mimeographing school report forms.

Learning to sew, cook, and manage household problems are a few of the goals of girls in Home Economics classes.

For the novice seamstress, Clothing I provided the foundation for sewing techniques—what material to use for a proper interfacing, how to cut on the "straight of the grain," and how to put in a zipper.

Clothing II was a class for expanding wardrobes and exploring the new looks of the season. Among these new looks, the "peasant" and the "midi" seemed most popular. A new type of sewing was added with the teaching of how to make lingerie.

Family Living classes, offered only to seniors, gave many students new insights into the age-old institution of married life. Classroom debates ranged from discussions on whether the mother should work after she has children to heated arguments for and against the legalization of marijuana.

SURROUNDED BY ASSORTED sewing paraphernalia, Beverly Burdick sews on the seam tape to her dress.

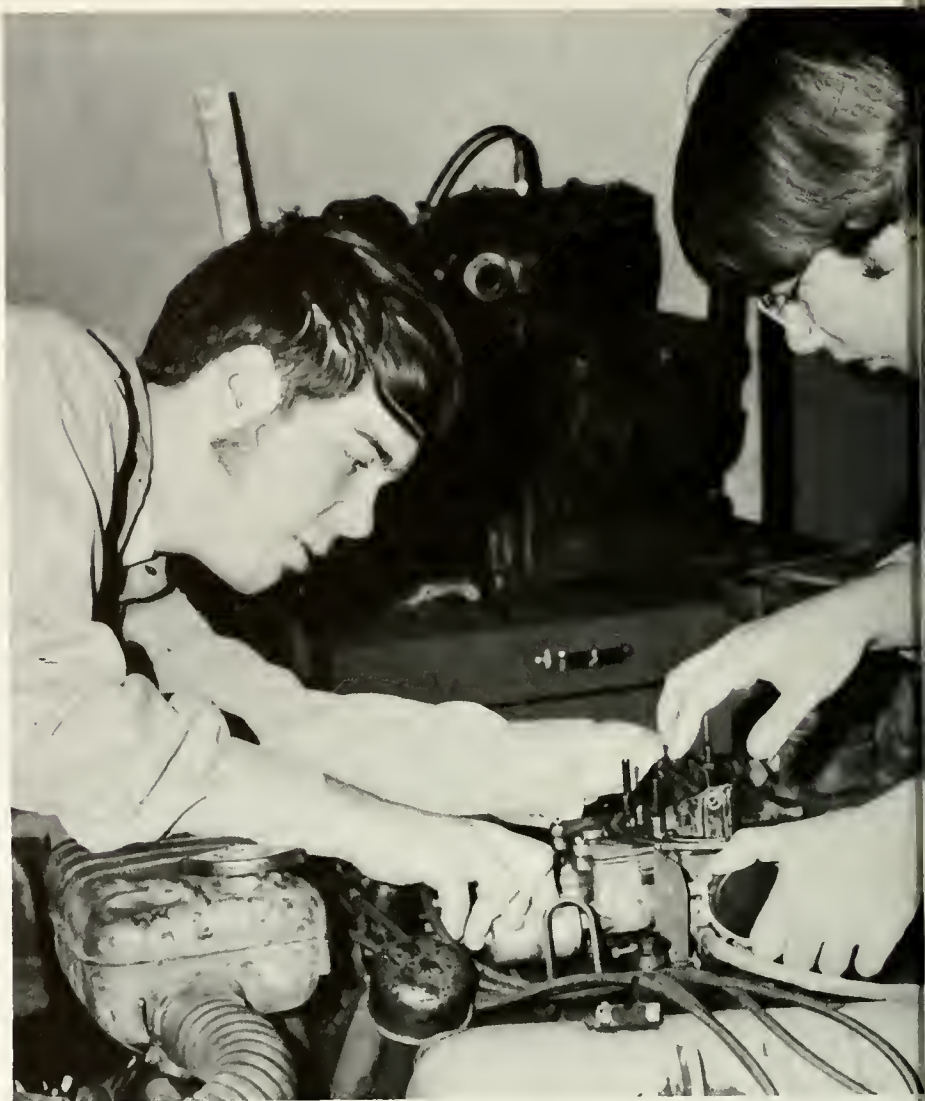

Industrial Arts

Correlate Skill

With Knowledge

Giving practical experience and knowledge is the purpose of the industrial arts department. Boys gain experience in television and auto repair and learn the basics of reading blueprints. Up to five girls are allowed to enroll in the drafting classes because there is a demand for women in interior decorating and planning. Much sketching and dimensioning in Drafting I provide a solid foundation for ink designing and pencil renderings in Drafting II.

Electronics I classes are taught the principles of electronics while the more advanced classes familiarize themselves with equipment in preparation for doing TV repairs.

Artists, Music-makers Add Culture

As Each Investigates New Media

Culture was not lacking in the Jackson curriculum this year. Students in Basic Art familiarized themselves with painters and their lives and works, along with color, composition, and depth. More advanced art connoisseurs practiced in various media to develop their technique and perspective.

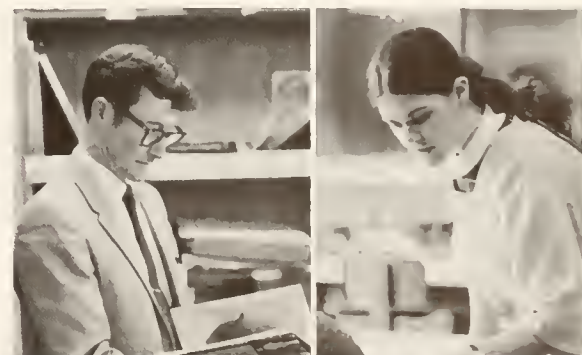

Commercial artists got practical experience by designing posters for plays and concerts.

Harmony was offered to all aspiring musicians who were anxious to understand the composition of music. Harmony I and II were taught simultaneously, to give the more advanced students a chance to help other members of the class.

Dance band and pep band met during the 1-A period, and devoted many of their Friday and Saturday nights to home basketball games.

Make for 'Better Life'

The finer arts of tumbling, swimming, and maybe even making a basket were taught to all freshmen and sophomores. This year some of the males could be seen in swimming caps while some of the girls with shorter hair did not have to wear them. The athletic season started with soccer, progressed to softball, through football, gymnastics, bowling, basketball and volleyball.

Driver's Education was again offered to 16 and 17 years-olds who were ambitious enough to brave the open highways. The course consisted of a two-week session in the summer with two hours of class and two hours in the car daily.

ACTIVITIES

Jackson Players Create Fantastic 'Adding Machine'

Bill McGrath and Sarah Bowers in the lead roles of Mr. and Mrs. Zero, headed the cast of performers on an unforgettable trip into a fantastic dream world. Rolling smoke, gigantic machines, headless men, and unusual sets characterized the Jackson Players' production "The Adding Machine" on Nov. 19, 20, and 21. Lighting effects added to the aura of fear and foreboding. Flashing lights created a sense of the old-time movie days.

Directed by Mr. John H. B. Kauss, the actors spent long hours rehearsing and perfecting. The stage crew encountered difficulties in building the monster adding machine but the finished product was termed "well worth the effort."

The "Adding Machine," written in 1924 by Elmer Rice, has been called a prophetic nightmare because it attempts to show man's vanishing worth in an age of computers and machines.

Area Schools Combine Talents To Produce Musical Extravaganza

A NEAR capacity crowd filled the Notre Dame ACC to watch the musical production "Motion and Commotion".

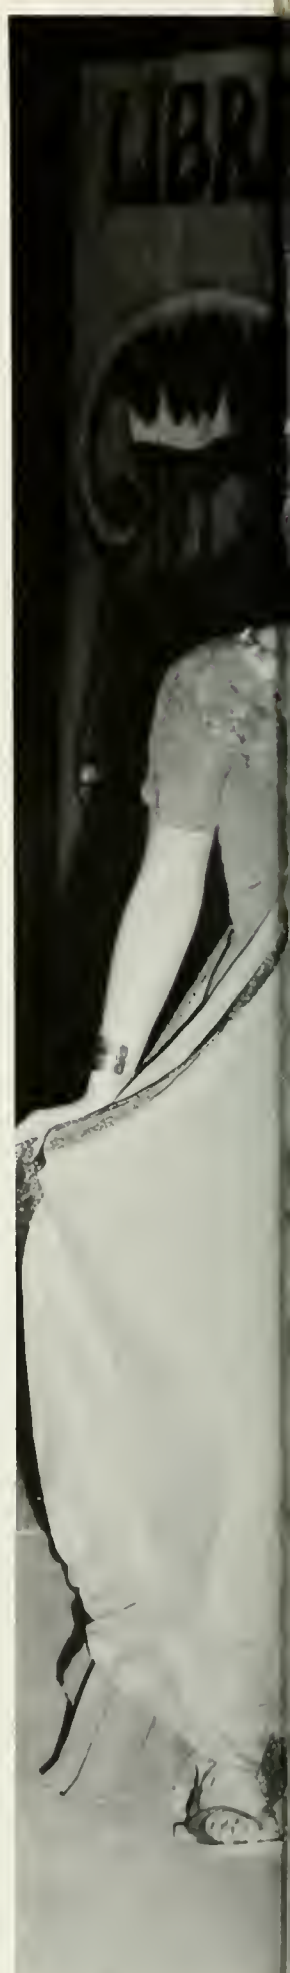

On Feb. 10 the South Bend grade and high schools presented "Motion and Commotion" to an audience of 9,000 at the Notre Dame Athletic and Convocation Center. The musical extravaganza, called "Calvacade of History," depicted music and general atmosphere from the pioneer days to the "Mod, Cool, Mod" era. James L. Casady directed the cast of 2,000.

Jackson was assigned modern music. The Choraliers sang two songs from the musicale Hair, "What a Piece of Work is Man" and "Good Morning Starshine." The finale was "Aquarius-Let the Sunshine In" with all the schools joining in and Jacksonites dancing. At the close of the show the dancers lay down in a gigantic peace sign.

BARB ALLEN, doing a modern ballet routine, shares the stage with other JHS dancers.

DURING "Aquarius" Sarah Bowers, masked in gold paint, portrays Libra while Tami Nelson dances.

GETTING INTO the mood of the music, Kathy Hammer tries to convey the spirit of the Age of Aquarius.

Mail Service, Jackson T-shirts Prove Profitable

TB seal sales reached an all-time high with the initiation of a Student Council mail service. During Christmas season, students were able to send cards to friends in their homerooms at a price of five TB stamps per letter. An average of 200 letters a day were delivered. Mr. Tim Mojzik's junior homeroom 143 surpassed all other homerooms in collecting food and money for the Thanksgiving Basket drive. At the end of the two weeks, a total of 4,958 pounds of food and $300 in cash was collected. Over 30 baskets were delivered to needy families.

A petition containing 967 names was sent to North Vietnam pleading for the release of American prisoners.

B-team cheerleaders demonstrated more than cheering ability as each made her own outfit. Several varsity and B cheerleaders attended a one-day clinic at Converse, Ind. Many of the cheers they learned downstate such as "Git'em, Git'em," and "Go, Fight, Win" were taught to the students during pep assemblies. For the first time, freshmen cheerleaders were elected to heighten enthusiasm at freshman games.

Guardian Angels also played an important part in keeping the spirit of athletes up. "Angels" secretly decorated the lockers of swimmers, wrestlers, and basketball players. Some included poetry ("Go Jim, Get a Pin") and candy for "that extra spurt of energy."

Editors Keep Cool Despite Hot News, Weekly Deadline

Under the leadership of editor-in-chief Tami Nelson, the Old Hickory kept up its weekly chronicle of life and thought at Jackson. For the first time a full color picture was printed in the Christmas issue; and for the first time staffers attended the National Scholastic Press Association convention in Chicago during Thanksgiving vacation.

For the sixth year the Student Directory was prepared and sold, not only as a service to the school but as a fund-raising project for publications. Some 1000 students had newspaper subscriptions representing almost every Jackson family. A school-wide survey by the business staff indicated that more than half the readers were influenced by Old Hickory advertising.

Staffers Find 'Yearbooking' Is Time-consuming Activity

Jackson yearbook editors have been calling their advisor "Mama Claus" for the past three years, but this time it was legitimate as Nancy Claus guided the '71 Jacksonian into print. Choosing excerpts from Lawrence Ferlinghetti's poem "I am Waiting," the staff sought to portray not only the people and events of the school but also the variety in life styles.

A three-month-long search for just the right cover ended happily with the discovery of a woodcut entitled "Cubicles" by JHS art teacher Mr. Robert Thomas.

Student cameramen covering school activities were frequently joined by '70 graduate Jack Drake. Other photographers were Jon Meek, Greg Lofgren, Dave Hugus, and Bruce Storin.

Musicians Join in 'Motion and Commotion'

Orchestra, conducted by Mr. Harold Kottlowski, was a five-day-a-week activity. The musicians celebrated Christmas with their tradition of playing carols in the halls on the last day before vacation. In April the orchestra and dance band held their first combined concert.

Instrumentalists, Choraliers and Glee Club members participated in the all-South Bend-school musical extravaganza, "Motion and Commotion," on Feb. 10 at the Athletic and Convocation Center, Notre Dame. The Choraliers, directed by Mr. Dan Miller, entertained civic groups such as Kiwanis Club and the Masons throughout the year. Both Glee Club and Choraliers presented their annual Christmas programs of old and new carols.

Two Full Bands Involve 144 JHS Musicians

School spirit pervaded the atmosphere of Jackson, especially in the band. For the first time, the bandroom walls were plastered with spirit banners and "power posters." Women's Lib also found its way to the musicians, as the fairer sex was finally allowed into the pep band.

Marching season was highlighted by a performance of the "Rubber Duckie" which waddled down the field pulled by drum majors Dave Stroop and David Leary. Football season finally gave way to concert season featuring concerts in December and May. The NISBOVA (Northern Indiana State Band, Orchestra and Vocal Association) held its annual solo and ensemble contest in January. Jackson musicians again brought back numerous first division awards and honors.

THE TIGER BAND spent many mornings practicing for the football games. A familiar pre-game sight was the forming of the traditional "Tiger Tunnel."

Spanish Club's 'Penny Pinata' Raises Money;

With 80 per cent of Jackson students bussed in, their after-school activities have always been limited. Language clubs, however, have flourished through extension of classroom projects and such occasional "happenings" as the French Club's trip to Chicago for dinner in an authentic French restaurant. The Latin Club had its Saturnalia when members wear togas and the German Club this year took advantage of the opportunity to know Germany better through German exchange student Susie Schmidt.

The Spanish Club's main project was to raise money to adopt a Mexican child. A "Penny Pinata" was set up in the cafeteria for contributions during the Christmas season, making the adoption a school-wide drive. Spring activities included picnics and parties for the Spanish and German Club, highlighted by native food and games.

NHS Inducts 51 Members

The sixth annual induction of the National Honor Society took place Nov. 19 in an upper-classmen's assembly. The thirty-four juniors and seventeen seniors were honored afterwards along with their parents at a breakfast in the cafeteria. Tom Gatewood, Notre Dame's varsity split end, spoke at the induction ceremony on the values of being a NHS member.

Many of this year's Monogram Club members bought official letter jackets. Also the club initiated the policy of electing an offensive and defensive player of the week during football season and posted the names in the trophy case. The Human Relations Club sent a representative to the Youth Coalition, a city-wide organization of teens.

DECA, VICA, COE Members Find Challenge

After three morning classes, students involved in vocational co-operative education left Jackson for their jobs in the community. This program is designed to aid those wishing to enter into business after high school. Every type job from beautician to veterinarian's assistant is available to enrolled Jacksonites.

Members of Distributive Education Clubs of America (DECA), to raise money for their organization, sold Jackson decals for fifty cents apiece.

VICA (Vocational and Industrial Clubs of America) was a practical on-the-job training for boys interested in applying their knowledge in industry and technology.

COE (Co-operative Office Education) employed girls each in a secretarial capacity. Members of all clubs may compete in state contests.

Volunteers Contribute Valuable Services

At a crucial moment in the movie "Cyrano" the film breaks, and a trained audio-visual man has it spliced immediately. The crowd all comes at once to the school play or the basketball game and the Jackson ushers, wearing new official blazers, find seats for everyone. Library materials pile up at the book drop each morning, and student librarians shelve them correctly and promptly. Phones ring all day in the various school offices, and they are answered by volunteer student office workers who also relay messages and guide visitors around the building. In all these service areas, the reward was the satisfaction of being "involved" and the opportunity to develop greater initiative.

Cross Country Tallies Best Season Ever:

Led by Senior captain Dean Reinke, Coach Larry Morningstar's 1970 cross country team compiled a record of eight wins and three losses, best in school history. The harriers' 3-2 conference record earned them a second place tie with Marian and LaSalle. The team finished third in the City meet, sixth in the New Prairie Invitational, eighth in the sectional and ninth in the LaPorte Invitational.

Reinke set a new school record of 9:26.5 against St. Joseph at the Erskine Golf Course. He also set a new record in the City meet, finished second in the Sectional, second in the New Prairie Invitational, and fourth in the LaPorte Invitational. Reinke's heroics overshadowed fine performances of seniors Tom Wharton, Jim Julow and Craig Stoner. Wharton became the second in school history to break the ten-minute barrier.

Coach Dave Dunlap's 1970 tennis team compiled their best record in Jackson history, finishing with nine wins and three losses. They also snatched the Conference crown, remaining undefeated in four efforts. The Tiger netmen finished a respectable third in the sectional out of twelve teams. Heading a team with tremendous depth was number one man Steve Trenkner. Positions two and three were occupied interchangeably by Andy Zaderej and Gary Midla. The number-four man was Jim Palen, while Tom Everly and Dave Fischgrund alternated at positions five and six.

DEFENSIVE TACKLE
Larry Greenwood demonstrates what is called the best pass defense, the pass rush.

Against String of Top-ranked Opponents

Sometime or another all suffer defeat, and the Jackson High footballers suffered in the 1970 season. It has been said that it does not matter whether you win or lose; it is how you play the game. Although this phrase may be a worn out cliché, it best describes the feeling of the Tigers in three one-point defeats. The team went for the win and not the tie when possible, but lost in the final outcome of the games. One-point defeats were Riley (7-6), Clay (14-13), and LaSalle (14-13).

The lack of depth on the Jackson team hindered the play as most of the time seven players were going both on offense and defense while other teams had separate offensive and defensive units. Although the season record was rather bleak, the 1970 Tigers showed a fighting spirit all the way. After losing the first three of four ball games by one point, the Tigers had to look forward to playing the roughest part of the season with five state-ranked teams left. State ranked teams played were in order LaSalle, Michigan City, St. Joseph's, Marian and LaPorte.

TIGHT END Rick Streich goes for extra yardage after making a catch against LaSalle.

'Gets Experience'

Under New Coach

When Coach Joe Kreitzman took over the Tiger cagers this year, he had a tough decision to make. He formed the varsity largely from inexperienced underclassmen with the idea of building for the future. Although they won only six games, the team developed stamina and improved skills. Their morale remained high, and the season brought some rewards. Junior Alan Smith, one of the top scorers in the area, was named to the Tribune's All-Conference second team. His brother, Captain Dan Smith, set a Jackson record of 42 consecutive free throws without a miss, and the team as a whole had more assists recorded than had any previous Tiger team.

Tigers Reach Finals of Basketball Sectional

The Tiger basketball team won two games in the LaVille Sectional before losing to champion Plymouth in the finals. Against Bremen in the opener, Alan Smith got 23 rebounds, a school record for a single game. He led the team in total rebounds with 190 and in scoring with an average of 18.7 points per game. Following Al in scoring were sophomore forward Dave Moreland with a 16 point average and senior Dan Smith with 11. Only three varsity men, Dan Smith, Doug Vyverberg, and Gary Pflugner, will be lost through graduation.

To Place Third Downstate

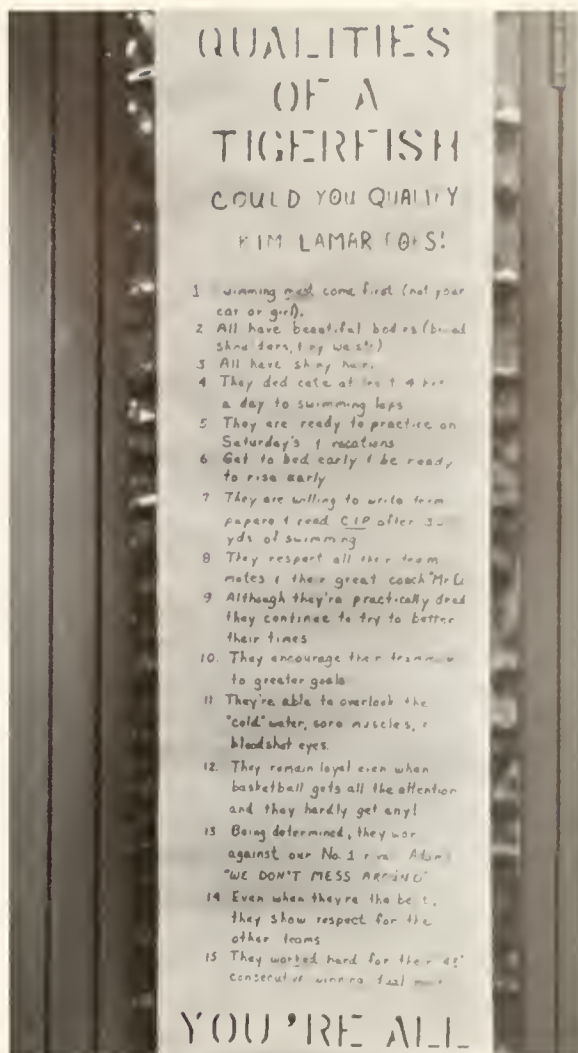

The Jackson Tigerfish are swimmers of another breed. Not only do they continue to break records, but they have extended their dual meet streak to 46 consecutive meets over a period of three years. In February, after winning City, Conference, and Sectional, Jackson went downstate with high hopes of the state championship. However, even the tremendous depth of the Tigerfish could not compensate for the superstars of defending champion Bloomington. The valiant efforts of the team netted them third place (behind Columbus) and a first in the 400 free relay.

Every day before and after school the entire team met for three hours of practice, Saturdays and holidays included. Perhaps being together for so many hours a day was what brought this team close together. Swimmers were known for their standing by each other and helping cheer up teammates when their times were off. This closeness and respect, not just the times, was what made all Jackson swimmers superstars.

Rick Smith Wins Sectional;

Last year, Jackson's most spectacular wrestling successes were in the heavyweight category with Bob Shonkwiler, but in '70-'71 the spotlight shifted to the lighter weight members of the team. Rick Smith, wrestling in the 114-pound class, was undefeated in 22 matches until he lost, like Shonkwiler, in the finals of the Gary Regional. Freshman Don Bauer, 108-pound class, topped a winning season with a third in the 16-team South Bend Sectional. The team finished with a 5-6 over all mark and 3-2 in the Northern Indiana Valley Conference. In the Conference meet, held in Mishawaka Marian, Smith won a championship and four others reached the finals: Tom DeShone, Mike MacHatton, Mike Powers, and Jim Hoffman. Since all 12 varsity wrestlers will be returning next year, Coach Dale Rems sees the future as promising "if the boys do not all bunch up in the same weight classes."

Despite Miller's Mighty Bat

Baseball Season Disappointing

Coach Cuyler Miller's 1970 baseball team had its ups and downs, going from the Northern Indiana Valley Conference cellar position to a respectable Sectional showing against the eventual Indiana State Champion Clay. Composed largely of seniors, the squad racked up a 6-15 record. The season's highlight, according to Coach Miller, was the victory over Marian which knocked the Knights out of first place in the NIVC.

Back to lead the Tiger attack in '71 were mainstay hitters George Miller and Steve Trenkner, along with other lettermen Larry McLaughlin, Tim Lockwood, Greg Landry, and Terry Bartel. Miller, an outfielder, had a .400 batting average going into his senior season.

GEORGE MILLER provides a strong backbone for the team as another hit ups his batting average.

Tiger Trackmen Place Fifth in Conference;

Led by Coach Al Bias and Assistant coach Larry Morningstar, the Jackson tracksters finished the 1970 season with a 4-4-1 dual meet record, including a 2-3 conference record. The Tiger trackmen also finished a disappointing fifth in the NIVC meet and sixth in the All-City meet.

Although the win-loss record was less than spectacular, three new school records were established. Dean Reinke set two of them; one in the mile against Riley with a time of 4:38.3, the other at Penn in the Northern Indiana Valley Conference Meet with a time of 9:52 for the two-mile. The third was set by Rick Streich in the shot put at the NIVC meet with a heave of fifty feet, two inches. Dean qualified for the regional in the two-mile, and Rick qualified in the shot put.

Golfers Win Second Straight NIVC Title:

Led by Howard Bucher and Bill Clemens, who jockeyed for first position of the team, the Jackson golfers of 1970 produced a season mark of 22-3 in regular season play. The golfers also received first in the Northern Indiana Valley Conference with ten wins and no losses. The team posted another victory in the Ernie Kaeppler Memorial Tourney, then went on to win the sectional title for the first time in Jackson's five-year history. The golfers finished second in the regional and eighth in state play. The varsity was coached by Mr. Joseph Kreitzman and the B-team by student teacher Mr. Edward Bloome.

Intramural Leagues Formed

Two leagues competed in intramural basketball—freshmen and sophomores at one level and juniors and seniors at another. The upper-class division came down to the wire and the championship was won in the last game with two undefeated teams meeting. The Bruisers were victors over the Boozers 46-32. The winners, coached by Doug Vyverberg, consisted of team members Larry Greenwood, Rick Streich, Bob Kelsey, Jeff Botich, Keith Claro, and Larry McLaughlin. The Pacers took the underclass title with a perfect 5-0 slate.

The Girls' Athletic Association (GAA) was inactive this year, but the girls' swim team, the "Porpoises," worked out in the pool from October to March at all sorts of odd hours, most frequently from 6 to 7 p.m. Their meets started in late February at the end of the boys' swim season. As usual, Adams provided the strongest competition.

Upperclass Status Achieved After Four-year Struggle

For the fourth consecutive year, the class of '71 won the homecoming hall-decorating contest with the production of Tiger Town U.S.A. Various students were proprietors of shops such as Con-Con's (Pacay) Bon Bon Shoppe and Peggy Balok was proclaimed "The Girl Next Door."

English classes studied World Lit. and Black Lit. and the "ever-popular" Crime and Punishment. No matter how far in advance they were announced, year-end term papers were almost always a last-minute rush. Senior slump was quickly cured by finals week and midnite marathons were necessary to "review" nine months of material.

"Junior Power," proms, and class rings—that's what the junior year is made of. With the first Jackson prom to be held in the new American bank building and the first two girls in the dance band, the Juniors were first in many things. The quarterback of the football team and the drum major of the band were both members of the class of '72.

There were also the headaches of chemistry class and Mr. Hoyer's Basic Events quizzes forever looming over them. As "guinea pigs" in a new English elective program, juniors were allowed a choice of widely varied 12-week courses, often with three different teachers as well as subjects.

Encountering a skeleton in the health class or amoebas in the Biology room were not uncommon experiences for this year's sophomore class. The many hours spent with obtuse and acute angles proved to be sometimes impossible, but always challenging for the novice geometry students.

Sophomores spurned formal dances sponsored by large groups but found almost every weekend occupied by informal parties at each other's homes.

Excelling in sports, the sophomores had five of their members as regular starters on the basketball team.

Frosh Spirit Shakes Jackson at Pep Rallies

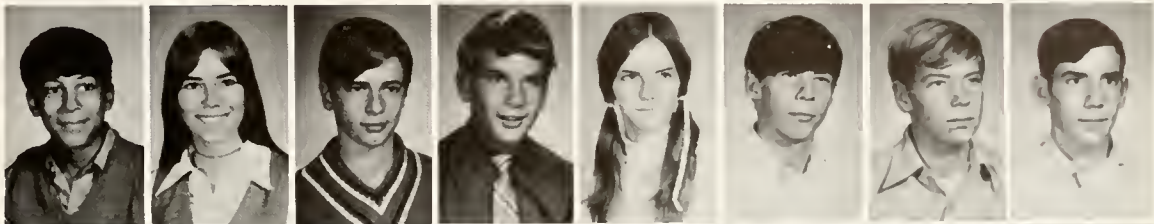

The usual apprehension and astonishment that confront freshmen were not totally lacking in this year's newcomers. The frosh quickly overcame any doubts they might have had, however, and stepped into sports, dramatics, and other extra-curricular activities.

The newly appointed freshman cheerleaders led the spirited class as they out-yelled upper-classmen in the "Battle Cry." In Social Studies class many freshmen went door to door, polling the community on their party favorites in this year's Congressional election. Among the ranks of the freshman class are five pairs of twins, while the other three classes combined can boast only four pairs.

Competent Cooks

Prepare Meals

For 1500 Eaters

Mrs. Eileen Stevens, supervisor of the cafeteria, helped plan menus and saw to it that the kitchen was in order and the food was served properly. Even with the rising cost of living, the plate lunch still offered the best bargain in town. Hundreds of cookies, pies, and cakes were baked each afternoon.

Although students are responsible for clearing their own trays from the tables, the cafeteria help did more than their share of clean-up after D lunch.

SEEING THAT everything runs smoothly in the kitchen is supervisor Mrs. Eileen Stevens.

Ireland Plaza Businesses Offer Many

With the addition of several stores at the newly completed Ireland Plaza, businesses competed for the patronage of Jackson students. An ice cream parlor, a pizza place, and furniture stores added variety to the shopping environment of the south side. Also the businesses increased job opportunities by hiring Jackson students part time. After several years of planning and contracting stores, the Scottsdale Shopping Mall developers finally broke ground.

The south side was not the only area of South Bend affected by expansion. The downtown skyline was completely altered by the addition of the high rise American National Bank Building and two parking garages. The ballroom of the bank building was the site of the junior class prom. An Ayr-Way store and a new movie theater were added to the Town and Country Shopping Center.

FOR THE UNUSUAL in flowers and gifts, call 291-2250, FLOWERS BY STEPHEN, 4325 S. Michigan St.

DEBBIE PANCHERI gives some serious thought in selecting just the right card. She's sure to find it at BUSCHBAUM'S PHARMACY, 2305 S. Miami.

CHIPPEWA LANES is the place of recreation for these Jackson juniors. Steve Infalt (seated) is surrounded by Dave Dillon and Joe Kocy.

Jackson Students Jobs

THE WISHING WELL, 1430 Calvert St., is a favorite place to shop for Sue Smith, Paula Abraham, Diane Campanaro, and Julie Hatton.

BASKIN ROBBINS, located in the Ireland Plaza, boasts 31 varieties of ice cream and also these Jackson employees: Linda Bloom, Diane McPherson, Ken Jebelian, Tom Lukasiewicz, Greg Paczkowski, Lynn Truex, Rick Sprague and Maureen Miller.

SHOELAND SALESGIRL Leslie Farnham assists John Whisler in his selection at the 4321 S. Michigan Store.

EVANS ANTIQUES, located in the Ireland Plaza, offer an array of distinct selections. Here Jan VanDerHagen is shown some tableware.

Jacksonites Shop for Flowers, Pictures

With many students employed, their buying power increased. Generally careful shoppers combed shops for the best buys. The raccoon and assorted other fur coats of the 40's era were eagerly snatched out of attics and Goodwill stores. Usually worn with jeans or other casual attire, they added a touch of bygone glamour to the feminine wardrobe.

Visit ZEHRLING STUDIOS OF CREATIVE PHOTOGRAPHY in their new location in the 800 block of East 12th Street, Mishawaka, to arrange for portraits, movies, and even aerial photography.

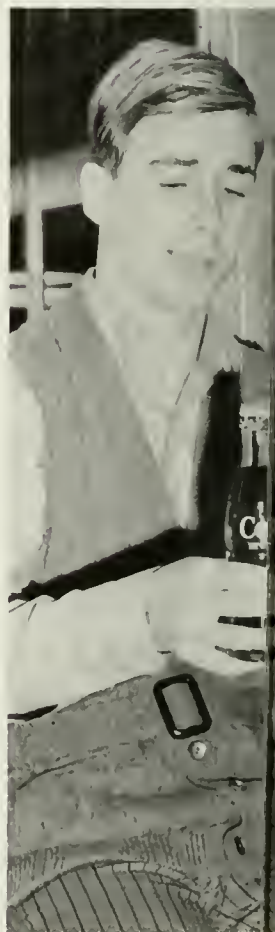

MIAMI FLORIST AND GIFT SHOPPE, 2208 Miami, captivates Pam Hostetler with its lovely garden setting. For flowers or gifts call 287-2811.

COCA-COLA appears to be a favorite with freshman Roy Tepe. "Things go better with COKE!" The COCA-COLA Bottling Co. located at 1818 Mishawaka Ave.

NEED A TUNE-UP? New brakes, shocks, battery or just some good Mobil gasoline? Take your car to MIAMI SERVICE STATION, 2226 Miami St. at the corner of Ewing.

It's BERG'S JEWELERS, 109 W. Jefferson Blvd., for Jackson class rings, watches, charms, and other gifts. Berg's is celebrating its 48th year as a Registered Jeweler by the American Gem Society.

Mickie Mooney, Michael Merrick Often Help Dads Mind Their Stores

Many a Jackson student gets business experience working in his or her family's store or salesroom after school and during vacations. Kassi Borr answers the phone at Honda of Michiana; Michael Merrick makes chocolate sodas at Merrick's Pharmacy; Mickie Mooney shelves stock at Mooney's Market. They all admit they get a lift when JHS friends come in to shop. And Jacksonites shop everywhere, from North Liberty to Miami and Ewing to downtown South Bend.

INWOOD's downtown hardware and gift store, 425 S. Michigan, is a favorite place to browse. Get a corsage for just a fraction of the price you might expect for fresh flowers.

MERRICK'S PHARMACY is a landmark in North Liberty, its friendly sign a reminder of the Merrick family's dedication to service to fill the community's wants and needs.

MOONEY'S MARKET, 59570 Mayflower Rd., is especially convenient for Greene Township food shoppers. Jacksonite Mickie Mooney fills the shelves with goodies.

WAITING TO HAVE his locks trimmed is Bill Borden at the BROADMOOR BARBER SHOP, 4328 S. Miami Rd. Appointments accepted.

Area Merchants Provide

Goods and Services to Jackson Students

Saturdays sent flocks of Jacksonites shopping downtown or at stores scattered over the city. A number of novelty shops opened, giving South Bend a great variety of unusual and often hand-made goods. Gift shops abounded and most students had little difficulty in selecting the right gift. Gates Chevrolet provided the cars that were used in the football homecoming parade.

VAN GATES and the varsity cheerleaders invite you to come and see Chevy's new small car, the Vega. "Putting you first keeps us first." GATES CHEVROLET, Inc., 333 W. Western Ave. Cheering on the Vega are Kitty Gates, Chris Seaborg, Jan Stickley, Carol Rzeszewski and Jean Kennedy.

CIRA'S SUPER MARKET is a fast and efficient place to shop as Terry Cline keeps the check-out lines running smoothly. CIRA'S, located at 2904 S. Michigan St., specializes in quality meats.

TO FIND A VARIETY of knitting worsted, go to HOBBY HAVEN, 1410 E. Calvert St. Here Sue Stravinski gets instruction in fundamentals of knitting.

Acknowledgment is due to many persons who have contributed to the 1971 Jacksonian: to Mr. Robert Thomas, JHS art teacher, for the woodcut which appears on our cover; to Mr. Dick Kennard, representative from Newsfoto Yearbooks, who gave us advice on graphic effects; to the South Bend Tribune for the use of two pictures, one of the tutoring program, page 4, and one of Dan Smith on page 83; to Jack Drake, a JHS graduate who took, developed and printed many of the pictures throughout the book; to Mr. and Mrs. Gene Zehring and Mrs. Donna Buckles of Zehring Studio, who always came through when a deadline was pressing; to Mr. and Mrs. Paul G. Jacobs who checked and rechecked names for the underclass section and index (Mrs. Jacobs also assisted by typing several pages); to Mr. and Mrs. Tim M. Meek who surely will be relieved when their photographer son gets a driver's license; to the teachers at Jackson who have cooperated in our efforts to cover this year's activities; and most of all, to Mama Claus, our adviser, who patiently guided us through this book.

Excerpts from "I Am Waiting" have been used by permission of New Directions, 333 Sixth Ave., N.Y. 10014, publishers of A Coney Island of the Mind, Poems by Lawrence Ferlinghetti.

The Editors

*" . . . I am waiting for Alice in Wonderland to transmit to me
her total dream of innocence . . . "*

A BROKEN LEG PROVES to be quite a conversation piece with Linda Brown's decorated cast.

AN INVASION of Women's Lib? Sally Helms, Barb Dickerson, Ame Place, Ami Simon, and Carri Landis dress for the Junior-Senior football game.

WAITING FOR INSPIRATION to strike can be time-consuming. Creative Writing student Kimberly Beach has a wastebasket full of false starts.

INJURIES, ILLNESSES, and forgotten gym clothes are legitimate reasons to get out of gym class.

" . . . and I am waiting for some strains of unpremeditated art to shake my typewriter . . . "

BIG BIRD OF SESEME STREET appeared in the toy department of a downtown store at Christmas. Rhonda Hill (inside) entertains her little sister.

JOSE OLIVEIRA (upper left) joined the Jackson student body mid-year on the YFU program.

TRACK CINDERELLA LINDA BLOOM appears unaware of the flurry of action behind her.

" . . . I am waiting for my number to be called . . . "

LORI HENRY squeezes in a last-minute conversation through the window before the bus pulls away.

"UNCLE JOE WANTS YOU!" Joe Kocy's speech won him the election for Junior class vice-president.

BARB FREEMAN HELPS Larry Wechter get ready backstage. Swimming manager Felix Johnson (below) keeps a casual hold on the warning flags.

" . . . and I am waiting for the day that maketh all things clear . . .

*" . . . and I am awaiting perpetually and forever
a renaissance of wonder."*
